THE MANAGER

LARUSSA, Anthony "Tony"

Born Oct. 4, 1944, at Tampa, Fla. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bat and threw right. Married: Elaine, they have a daughter, Bianca Tai (9/14/79). Lives in Palos Hills, Ill.

No less an authority than Hall of Famer Al Lopez has predicted managerial success for Tony LaRussa. Chicago White Sox pilot for 1980. Lopez, last White Sox manager to lead the club to a pennant (1959), recalls LaRussa as a youngster and star athlete in Tampa, Fla.

LaRussa gave every indication of future managerial success when, in his debut as a baseball pilot, he led Knoxville to the first half championship of the Southern League by a whooping 14½ games when his team finished 28 games above .500 in 1978. Then LaRussa was called up by the parent White Sox to coach first base for Chicago for the remainder of the 1978 season.

Following that, LaRussa managed the Estrellas club in the Dominican Republic as a prelude to serving as manager of Iowa of the American Association to start the 1979 season. LaRussa's Iowa club had a 54-48 mark when Don Kessinger resigned as manager of the White Sox August 2nd; LaRussa promptly accepted Bill Veeck's offer to manage the White Sox and the club played .500 ball under his leadership the rest of the season, winning 27 and losing 27 games.

LaRussa was a football, basketball and baseball luminary at Jefferson High, Tampa, then signed a modest bonus with the Kansas City organization and made his pro debut in 1962 with Daytona Beach of the Florida State League. Just one year later the youthful infielder appeared in 34 games in the American League for KC, hitting .250. LaRussa got four more trials with the A's and also with the Braves and Cubs in the National League but spent most of his playing time in the minors. He concluded his playing career with New Orleans in 1977.

KUSNYER, Arthur William

Born Dec. 19, 1945, in Akron, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 197 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married and he and his wife, Judy, have one son, Ryan. Lives in Akron, Ohio.

A product of the White Sox farm system, with 14 years of minor and major league experience behind him, Kusnyer is the Chicago bullpen coach this year.

Kusnyer served as player-coach for the top White Sox minor league affiliate—Iowa of the Triple-A American Association—in 1979.

A catcher, Kusnyer was an All-State selection while attending Buchtel High, Akron, Ohio. Then he starred in baseball and basketball at Kent State University (Ohio) for two years before entering the pro ranks with the Sarasota White Sox in 1966.

Kusnyer has been with four different major league organizations, the Angels, Brewers, and Royals, in addition to the White Sox.

BABE, Loren Rolland

Born: January 11, 1928, at Pisgah, Iowa. Height: 5 ft., 10 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Batted left, threw right. Married and he and his wife, Pearl, have 5 children, Gordon, Deborah, David, Mike and Mark. Lives in Omaha, Neb.

The first base coach of the Chicago White Sox, Loren Babe has been in professional baseball for over 30 years. Babe spent 25 of those years in the New York Yankees organization as a player, scout, coach and minor league manager.

Babe joined the White Sox organization in 1975 when he managed the Denver club to the Western Division championship of the American Association. In 1976 Babe piloted Iowa to second place in the Eastern Division of the same circuit. He scouted for the White Sox in 1977 and 1978 and was serving in that capacity in 1979 when he assumed his present duties as coach with the White Sox in early August.

In addition to his role as a manager of minor league clubs for the White Sox, Babe was skipper for six years (1961-66) in the Yankee farm system. He served as first base coach for the Yankees in 1967 and saw service as a player with both the Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics in the early 1950's.

Ron Schueler became pitching coach of the Chicago White Sox upon the untimely death of Fred Martin June 11, 1979. A professional pitcher for 13 years, Schueler quickly adapted to his new role and is credited with speeding the development of the fine young pitching staff.

Schueler attended Hays (Kansas) High and Hays State college; he was originally a Pittsburgh draft selection but did not sign in 1966. A year later, Atlanta drafted Ron and he made his debut in pro ball that season, winning 9 and losing 9 in the Carolina League.

After four more years of minor league ball, primarily in the Texas and International Leagues, Schueler came up to Atlanta in 1972, winning 5 and losing 8 in the National League. After an 8-7 mark with the Braves the next year, Ron was traded to the Phillies Dec. 3, 1973, for pitcher Barry Lersch and infielder Craig Robinson. He won 11 games for the Phils in 1974.

One of the finest baseball coaches in collegiate history, Bobby Winkles is in his second year as third base coach for the Chicago White Sox. Winkles earned prestige and a national reputation as baseball coach at Arizona State for 13 years, during which his Sun Devils won 3 NCAA championships and he was named college baseball coach of the year by The Sporting News in 1965, '67 and '69.

A fine infielder at Illinois Wesleyan in his college days, Winkles originally signed his first pro contract with the Chicago White Sox back in 1951.

Winkles went to the California Angels as a coach in 1972; he became manager of the Angels in 1973, guiding them to fourth place but was replaced in 1974 after 74 games. Winkles coached for Oakland for the next two years, then had the same duties for San Francisco in 1976-77. Bobby succeeded Jack McKeon as manager of Oakland June 10, 1977, and resigned May 23, 1978, with his A's leading the American League's Western Division.

MINOSO, Saturnino Orestes Arrieta (Armas)

Born Nov. 29, 1922, in Pefico, Matanzas, Cuba. Ht: 5'11". Wt: 177 lbs. Bats and throws righthanded. Married to Edelia Del Gado, two children. Lives in Chicago, Ill.

Minoso was one of the most exciting players in the long history of the White Sox. The hustling Cuban made an electrifying debut by homering against the Yankees in his White Sox debut in his first time at bat. "Minnie" put in seven outstanding seasons for the White Sox, was traded to Cleveland, then returned to the Sox in 1960 and again he celebrated donning a Chicago uniform with two home runs, one a grand-slam, the other game-winner in the 9th inning.

Minoso had 112 RBI's and hit .326 his first season with Chicago to win American League Rookie of the Year honors. In 1954 he hit .320 and led the league in triples, slugging percentage and total bases. When he returned to Chicago after two .300 seasons with the Indians, "Minnie" hit .311 with 105 RBI's and he led the league in hits.

It was on Sept. 12, 1976, that Minoso, as a designated hitter, singled against California, thus getting a base hit at the age of 53. "Minnie" was the only man to play in the majors the four decades of the '40's, '50's, '60's and '70's.

Born Sept. 17, 1937 in Ponce, Puerto Rico. Ht: 6' 2"; Wt: 215 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married and he and his wife, Nydia, have 4 children, Orlando, Hector, Malcom and Ali. Lives in Trujillo Alto, P.R.

One of the top sluggers in the National League for many years, Cepeda is the Sox organization batting instructor and also scouts the Latin America area for Chicago.

Cepeda broke into the majors with the San Francisco Giants in 1958 and immediately won National League Rookie of the Year honors as he hit 25 home runs, batted in 96 runs and hit .312. Cepeda continued his long distance slugging during his long big league career, which found him collecting 379 home runs while compiling a career batting average of .297 for 2124 games.

Cepeda played in three World Series and in six All-Star games. He slammed three home runs in a single game, July 26, 1970, and tied the major league record for most doubles, 4, Aug. 8, 1973. Cepeda was the National League's Most Valuable Player and Player of the Year in 1967.

BAINES, Harold DouglasOF No. 3

Born March 15, 1959, in Easton, Maryland. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws left. Lives in St. Michaels, MD.

1979 SEASON: As a 20-year-old outfielder, Baines was one of the outstanding rookies in the AAA American Association, batting .298 in 125 games with 87 runs batted in . . . Baines led his Iowa team in homers (22), triples (8), total bases (246) and slugging percentage (.528) . . . Baines became the 10th player in the 72-year history of the American Association to swat two home runs in one inning, accomplishing this rare feat Aug. 4 against Okla. City in the 6th inning.

CAREER: In June, 1977, the Chicago White Sox had the No. 1 draft choice in the country and selected Harold Baines, then an 18-year-old senior at St. Michaels (Md) High School . . . Baines broke into pro ball at Appleton (Wis) in the Class "A" Midwest League that summer, batting .261 in 69 games; this earned the youngster a promotion to Knoxville in the double-A Southern League in 1978 . . . After a slow start, which found him batting only .170 in June, Baines steadily boosted his average and wound up batting .275 with 13 home runs and 72 RBI's.

MISCELLANEOUS: Bill Veeck first noticed Baines when Harold was a mere 12 years old, playing in Little League not far from Easton, Md., where Veeck was living at that time . . . Baines batted .532 as an outfielder-first baseman his senior year in high school . . . he also did some pitching as a prep star and was captain of both his high school basketball and baseball teams.

1979 SEASON: Bosley started the 1979 season with the White Sox but was hitting only .222 after the first month so was optioned to Triple-A Iowa . . . Thad batted .264 in 95 games for the Oaks, then was called up to the parent Sox Sept. 1st . . . Bosley immediately made the most of this opportunity by batting a neat .339 the last month of the '79 campaign with 20 hits in 59 at bats . . . Bosley hit safely in 13 of the 15 games he started in September and claimed two 3-hit games.

CAREER: Bosley broke into pro ball in 1974 with Idaho Falls—a California minor league affiliate . . . He stole 27 bases that rookie season, giving strong evidence of his great speed on the bases . . . In 1975 Bosley stole 37 bases and batted .298 for Quad Cities in 108 games . . . Playing for Salinas of the California League in 1976, Bosley batted .324 with 171 hits in 134 games and he stole the incredible amount of 90 bases . . . Thad jumped to Triple-A in 1977 (Salt Lake City) and hit .326 with another 23 steals.

MISCELLANEOUS: Bosley attended Mira Costa Community college, Oceanside, CA . . . In 1975 Bosley led Midwest League outfielders in fielding (.981) and in 1976.

BANNISTER, Alan

IF No. 7

Born September 3, 1951, in Buena Park, California. Height: 5 ft., 11 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in Newport Beach, California.

1979 SEASON: Bannister had 10 three-hit games during the 1979 season with the White Sox and also had a banner day July 4 when he collected 5 hits in a single game against Cleveland . . . Bannister started the season at 2B but shifted to left field following the all-star break and wound up batting a respectable .285, with 55 RBI's . . . His 8 triples led the club and he was also the team's best base-stealer as he swiped 22 bases in just 28 tries . . . Oddly enough, Bannister batted .302 against righthanders but only .253 Vs. lefties . . . Alan's favorite foe was Cleveland as he batted .423 against the Indians with 22 hits in 55 at bats . . . He also was Chicago's top hitter against Bosox hurling with a .364 mark.

CAREER: Bannister's career has been besmirched by arm problems . . . Alan signed his first professional contract in the winter of 1973 with the Philadelphia Phillies . . . He spent most of the 1974-75 seasons with Toledo but also managed to get in 50 games for the Phils those two years . . . In December, 1975, the White Sox acquired Bannister in the Jim Kaat trade . . . Alan served in a utility role in 1976, hitting .248 while performing at six different positions in 73 games . . . Then Bannister came into his own in 1977, holding down the regular shortstop position and hitting .275 in 139 games with 57 RBI's . . . Bannister was bothered by an ailing shoulder all through the 1978 season and finally underwent surgery August 8th.

MISCELLANEOUS: One of the most heralded college players in history, Bannister was the first pick of the Phillies in the January, 1973 draft . . . Alan had been a two-time All-American at Arizona State under Coach Bobby Winkles . . . In college Bannister set all-time NCAA records with 101 hits, 177 total bases and 90 RBI's as he hit .380 in 70 games . . . Bannister starred at Buena Park (CA) High and originally was drafted No. 1 by the California Angels in June, 1969, but chose college instead.

BARRIOS, Francisco JavierRHP No. 46

Born June 10, 1953, in Hermosillo, Mexico. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married. Lives in Hermosillo.

1979 SEASON: Handicapped by a sore right shoulder, Francisco Barrios missed more than half of the 1979 season, yet managed to win 8 games while losing only 3 . . . Barrios season actually ended on July 8, when the husky righthander went 7 $\frac{2}{3}$ innings to gain credit for a 4-2 win over Kansas City; it marked his 4th straight victory but was also his last hill appearance of 1979 as he went on the disabled list July 15 and finally underwent surgery Sept. 25.

CAREER: In December, 1973, the White Sox acquired Barrios for a minor league infielder named Rudy Hernandez . . . Barrios won 9 games while losing 5 for the Sox farm at Knoxville in Double-A in 1974, earning a brief trial late that season with the parent Sox . . . He spent 1975 in the minors, breaking even in 24 decisions, then came up to Chicago to stay in 1976 . . . His first big league triumph came on his 23rd birthday, June 10, 1976, at Milwaukee . . . In 1977 Barrios topped the Sox staff in durability with 231 innings of work as he compiled a neat 14-7 won-and-lost record . . . Although he tapered off to a 9-15 mark in 1978, had one stretch when he won 4 straight games, permitting only 2 runs.

MISCELLANEOUS: Certainly a highlight of Barrios' rookie season (1976) was when he combined with John Odom in tossing a no-hit, 2-1 triumph at Oakland . . . Barrios worked the last 4 hitless innings, walking 2 batters . . . In 1978 the Mexican Baseball Hall of Fame selected Barrios as the outstanding Mexican player in the major leagues for the 1977 season . . . Francisco is one of 7 children of Pedro and Emilia Barrios, who reside in Hermosillo.

BURNS, Robert Britt

LHP No. 40

Born June 8, 1959, in Houston, Texas. Height: 6 ft., 5 in. Weight: 215 lbs. Throws left, bats right. Lives in Birmingham, Alabama.

1979 SEASON: Burns split the 1979 season between three clubs, starting with Knoxville, where he spent most of the year, then up to Iowa and finally with the White Sox the final month . . . The tall southpaw was 6-10 in the Southern Association but impressed with 92 strikeouts and only 37 bases on balls in 110 innings . . . At Iowa Britt pitched in 7 contests, with a 2-3 mark and 34 whiffs in 41 frames. In September Burns made 6 relief appearances for Chicago without a decision.

CAREER: Burns was the No. 3 choice of the White Sox in the June, 1978 Free Agent Draft . . . Britt broke into pro ball with Appleton later that month, making 6 starts, winning 3, losing 2, while fanning 28 and issuing only 2 walks in 30 innings.

MISCELLANEOUS: Burns set all kinds of pitching records while a prep in Alabama . . . Hurling for Huffman High in Birmingham, Britt fanned 292 batters in 139 innings while walking only 30 and permitting just 30 hits . . . His ERA WAS 0.12 and he had an 18-game winning streak . . . In 4 years of high school, Burns won 35 games, losing but 2 . . . His first name is Robert but he prefers to be called by his middle name—Britt.

Born May 27, 1955, in Highland Park, Ill. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 180. Throws and bats left. Lives in Glencoe, Ill.

1979 SEASON: Despite suffering through more than a month of throat problems in mid-season, Baumgarten led White Sox regular starters in both winning percentage (13-8 .619) and ERA (3.53) . . . Those accomplishments enabled the young southpaw to earn honors as Chicago co-Rookie of the Year by the Chicago chapter of Baseball Writers . . . Baumgarten also tossed 3 shutouts to tie Ken Kravec for club leadership in that department . . . Ross won his first 4 decisions, slumped to drop 5 of his next 6 decisions, then came back strong with another 4-game win streak; he only lost one game in August and September while racking up 4 more triumphs . . . His best effort was a one-hitter he tossed at the Western division champion California Angels May 25.

CAREER: The White Sox tabbed Baumgarten on the 20th round in the Free Agent draft in 1977 . . . Ross was recommended by veteran White Sox scout Walt Widmayer . . . He broke in at Appleton in the Class A Midwest league in 1977, winning 3 but losing 6 . . . But 1978 was a different story as the lefty had the rare distinction of winning in every classification . . . In his major league debut Aug. 16, 1978, Ross picked up a 6-2 victory at Texas, allowing just 2 runs and 5 hits in the 6 innings he worked . . . 11 days later, Baumgarten turned in his first big league shutout—a 5-hit, 6-0 decision over Cleveland.

MISCELLANEOUS: A graduate of Chicago suburban New Trier East High School, where he was an all-suburban league choice,

BELL, Kevin Robert

IF No. 8

Born July 13, 1955, in Los Angeles, California. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married to Bonnie Bongers. Lives in Covina, California.

1979 SEASON: After Kevin Bell slammed 11 home runs and drove in 37 runs in just 55 games, he was called up by the White Sox last summer and managed to bat .245 in 70 contests for Chicago . . . Bell was hitting only .218 Aug. 21, after his first 37 games for Chicago but then he seemed to find himself and batted .265 the remainder of the year.

CAREER: Bell broke into organized ball with the Sox farm club at Appleton in 1974, rapping 15 home runs in just 77 games . . . Then, in 1975 the husky third baseman slammed a total of 19 home runs while dividing the season between Appleton and Knoxville . . . Bell began the 76 season with Iowa but was promoted to the White Sox in mid-season . . . his first big league hit was a triple off veteran like Mike Cuellar of Baltimore . . . But tragedy struck the promising young slugger June 20, 1977, when a collision at home plate with Manny Sanguillen of Oakland resulted in Bell's suffering torn ligaments in his left knee . . . Surgery followed June 27 . . . 1978 was a trying year for young Bell as he slowly recovered from his serious knee injury.

MISCELLANEOUS: Bell's father, Donald, was an infielder in the Cleveland minor league system . . . Kevin was graduated from Northview High school, Covina, CA., in 1973, where he had starred in football and baseball . . . His senior year Bell was voted his team's most valuable player and he was a member of the All League and All Valley honor nines . . . Then played third base for Mount San Antonio Junior college, Walnut, CA . . . Was drafted by White Sox in 1974.

COLBERN, Michael Malloy

C No. 19

Born April 19, 1955 in Santa Monica, California. Height: 6 ft., 3 in. Weight: 205 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married to Connie Cox. Lives in Tempe, Arizona.

1979 SEASON: Although Colbern's batting average at Iowa last summer was a modest .262, Mike slammed 8 home runs and batted in 43 runs in just 57 games, earning a promotion to the parent White Sox, where he finished the season batting .241 in 32 contests . . . Mike had one 7-game hitting streak in September.

CAREER: Signed by the White Sox for Sarasota July 25, 1976, Colbern played 5 weeks in the Gulf Coast Rookie League . . . Colbern was Knoxville's regular catcher in the Southern League in 1977 and threw out 70 would-be base-stealers while hitting .285, including 11 home runs . . . One was a grand-slam and Mike also swiped 4 bases in a single game . . . Colbern hit well in triple-A in 1978 so on July 17 the White Sox brought him up and Mike got in 48 games, batting .270, including a perfect 4-for-4 night against California Sept. 29.

MISCELLANEOUS: Colbern was an outstanding athlete at Hawthorne (Cal) High, making all-league in basketball and being South Bay player of the year in baseball . . . He both pitched and caught as a prep but then was a star outfielder for 3 years at Arizona State . . . In 1976 Mike was a member of The Sporting News first team All-Stars and toured Japan . . . In 1974 he had been voted on the All Western Conference team and also was named as the MVP in the Best in the West tournament.

.302, stole 60 bases and batted in 62 runs as a key member of the Appleton championship club in the Midwest league . . . This earned him immediate promotion to the White Sox in September of 1978 and he hit .267 in 20 games in his big league debut and handled 92 chances flawlessly . . . While playing short for Appleton earlier that year Chappas was voted the Midwest League's Player of the Month for June.

MISCELLANEOUS: Actually the White Sox drafted Chappas twice but the first time he elected to attend Miami Dade Community College . . . He is the eldest of two sons of an electrical technician . . . While attending Nova High School in Davie, Fla., Chappas was team captain of the prep nine, made All-City, All-County and All-State and was adjudged the most valuable player in Broward County . . . Harry batted .420 his final prep season, then hit .395 in college . . . Chappas also played football in high school, being a wide receiver.

DOTSON, Richard Elliott

RHP No. 49

Born January 10, 1959, in Cincinnati, Ohio. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Throws and bats right. Lives in Cincinnati, O.

1979 SEASON: When Dotson was called up by the White Sox last September, the young righthander quickly made the most of his opportunity; in his second start he tossed his first big league shutout and then went 7 innings in a 5-2 victory to wind up 2-0 in his debut . . . Dotson spent most of the year at Knoxville in AA, where he rallied from a 3-7 start to end up with a 9-9 record for a sub .500 club.

CAREER: Dotson was originally selected in the first round of the 1977 amateur free agent draft (seventh pick in the country) by California . . . From the very start he exhibited an excellent strikeout pitch as he fanned 83 batters in 66 innings for Idaho Falls in his pro debut . . . In 1978 Richard captured 11 triumphs for Knoxville in double-A and he whiffed 152 batters in 145 innings . . . A highlight took place for Dotson when he fanned 13 batters against Columbus in a July game at Knoxville that was witnessed by 16,689.

MISCELLANEOUS: At Cincinnati's Anderson High School, Dotson captained the baseball team, pitched and played the outfield for 4 years, hitting .438 and leading the city preps in home runs.

Born April 1, 1956 in Erie, Pennsylvania. Height: 6 ft., 1 in. Weight: 190 lbs. Throws left and bats right. Lives in Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

1979 SEASON: Esser was primarily a relief pitcher for Iowa but he did make some starts, early in the season . . . After 2 relief appearances, Mark made 5 successive starts during May, then returned to the bullpen . . . Esser made only one start after that, on July 1st, when he fanned 9 batters in 6 innings . . . In all he made 43 appearances and had 4 saves . . . Made 2 brief relief appearances for parent White Sox late in April.

CAREER: Esser was the 8th choice of the White Sox in the regular phase of the 1977 winter free agent draft . . . Recommended by Walt Widmayer, Mark signed with Appleton, Wis., May 19, 1977 and had a 3-4 record his rookie season there but also went 3-3 for Sarasota in the Gulf Coast League . . . In 1978 Esser was selected as the lefthanded pitcher on the Midwest League All-Star team as he won 9 while losing only 2 games and struck out 109 batters in just 84 innings.

MISCELLANEOUS: Esser was graduated from New York's Roy C. Ketchan High School in 1975 . . . he had a 10-1 record his senior year there . . . Then Mark attended Miami Dade North Junior college, winning 6 while losing 2 games in 1976 and compiling a 5-1 record there in 1977 before signing on with the White Sox.

WRIGHT HOLDS RECORD

Taft Wright of the Chicago White Sox holds the American League record for driving in runs in consecutive games; in 1941 Wright drove in one or more runs in 13 straight games (May 4-20).

Born August 29, 1953, in Stanford, Kentucky. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 195 lbs. Bats left, throws right. Lives in Lexington, Kentucky. Married (wife June).

1979 SEASON: Foley batted .280 in 77 games for the Iowa Oaks but he also put in 2½ months with the parent White Sox, batting .247 in 34 contests . . . Foley started the season with Chicago and hit .235 in 22 games when he was optioned to Iowa . . . Marvis was at his Kentucky home following the conclusion of the Iowa season when Sox catcher Milt May was injured and a hurry-up call was sent to Foley . . . The husky receiver caught several shutouts as well as hitting .276 the remainder of the American League season.

CAREER: Selected by Chicago in the 17th round of the 1975 Free Agent draft, Foley hit well for both Appleton and Knoxville in his rookie year . . . He was Knoxville's regular catcher in 1976, split the '77 campaign between Knoxville and Appleton, then did most of the catching in 1978 when Knoxville won both halves of the Southern League race.

MISCELLANEOUS: Foley is a graduate of Henry Clay High school, Lexington, Ky., where he earned 4 varsity letters in baseball and was all-city three years and all-KY conference three seasons . . . Then Foley attended the University of Kentucky, graduating in May of 1975 . . . While playing baseball for Kentucky Foley was named All-Southeastern conference for two years . . .

HOFFMAN, Guy Alan

LHP No. 36

Born July 9, 1956, in Ottawa, Illinois. Height: 5 ft., 9 in. Weight: 175 lbs. Throws and bats left. Lives in Ottawa, Ill.

1979 SEASON: Hoffman rang up a 6-0 won-and-lost mark for Iowa earning the youthful southpaw promotion to the parent White Sox July 4th . . . Guy was used exclusively in relief by the Sox, making 24 appearances and, although he had an 0-5 record, he pitched effectively in many instances and managed to pick up two saves . . . Hoffman actually had started the '79 season in A ball (Appleton), allowing 2 hits and no runs in 4 $\frac{2}{3}$ innings of relief in two appearances, with one save.

CAREER: Hoffman signed with the White Sox July 17, 1978 and went immediately to Appleton, where he was very effective in 7 appearances, allowing only 22 hits in 34 innings and fanning 31 batters . . . Guy had a 2-0 record and that, coupled with his 6-0 mark at Iowa in 1979 gave him an 8-0 minor league record.

MISCELLANEOUS: Hoffman lettered in baseball, football and basketball at Marquette Catholic High school in Ottawa, Ill . . . He tossed a no-hitter his junior year while fanning 70 in 32 innings . . . In his senior year Guy fanned 111 in 50 innings and in a 14-inning game he whiffed 25 batters . . . In 1974, pitching for his Connie Mack team, Hoffman did not allow an earned run in compiling a 9-0 record, with 2 no-hitters and 3 one-hitters.

Born September 2, 1950, in Bessemer, Alabama. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 225 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married and he and his wife, Valory, have 2 sons, Lamar, Jr. and Brian, and a daughter Larissa. Lives in Lisle, Ill.

1979 SEASON: Johnson enjoyed his finest season since becoming a member of the White Sox as he batted .309 and set big league career highs for himself in hits, runs scored, two base hits and runs batted in . . . Lamar finished second to Chet Lemon on the White Sox club in batting average, RBI's, hits and total bases . . . Johnson also reeled off a 19-game hitting streak from July 30 thru August 18—longest of his career and which tied Lemon for club high in 1979 . . . Lamar liked Angel pitching best, batting .391 (18-46) against California . . . He also hit .378 against Seattle and .364 against Texas hurling . . . Ten of his dozen homers were on the road . . . He finished strong, batting .378 in September . . . Lamar hit well against both righties and lefties (.321 Vs. southpaws and .301 Vs. RHP) . . . He hit .303 in 37 games as a designated hitter.

CAREER: Johnson has always hit well, once he started playing regularly . . . His minor league apprenticeship produced 109 home runs . . . He hit .383 his rookie season (1968), .321 in the Northern league in 1970, .313 in the Midwest league in 1972 and .301 and .336 in the American Association in 1974-75 . . . Twice Johnson topped minor leagues in total bases and three times in RBI's . . . He had 101 RBI's for Denver in 1975, which promoted him to the majors to stay . . . Then Johnson hit a neat .320 in 82 games for Chicago in 1976 and he came right back with a .302 figure in 118 contests in 1977 . . . But the "hottest" month he ever enjoyed was August, 1975, when he slammed nine home runs and batted .442 to earn the Topps Minor League Player of the Month award.

MISCELLANEOUS: At Wenonah High School in Birmingham, AL., Johnson doubled as a catcher in baseball and defensive end in football . . . He also sang in the high school choir . . . Lamar was captain of both the grid and diamond teams and also played basketball . . . He also attended Lawson State College in 1968 and '70.

KRAVEC, Kenneth Peter

LHP No. 27

Born July 29, 1951, in Cleveland, Ohio. Height: 6 ft., 2 in. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws left. Married to Jan Cox. Lives in Northbrook, Ill.

1979 SEASON: The White Sox pitching staff hurled 23 "Low Hit" games and Kravec started eight of them . . . From May 6 thru June 2 Kravec reeled off a 6-game winning streak, plus adding a save . . . In those 7 appearances, Ken permitted just 6 runs and 23 hits in 50 innings, compiling an ERA of 1.08 while fanning 32 batters . . . Kravec turned in five 3-hit games while racking up his career high 15 victories . . . The southpaw led the Sox staff in strikeouts for the third consecutive year . . . Kravec wound up the '79 season with four straight victories . . . He topped the Sox staff in most starts (35), complete games (10), innings pitched (250), strikeouts (132) and longest win streak (6) . . . Ken was victorious over 11 of 13 American League teams . . . He tied with Ross Baumgarten for most shutouts (3) . . . He had a 9-8 record in Comiskey Park and was 6-5 on the road . . . Ken was 8th in league in innings pitched and 9th in strikeouts.

CAREER: Ken signed June 27, 1973 with the Sox affiliate at Knoxville in the Southern League . . . He prepped at Knoxville until 1975 when, on Sept. 4 he made his big league debut against Kansas City . . . Kravec fanned 10 batters in his second major league start (Boston) . . . His best strikeout total in a big league game is 12, against Minnesota June 7, 1978. Kravec had a 6-game win streak in 1977 and racked up five in a row in 1978.

MISCELLANEOUS: Kravec was a baseball and basketball star at Midpark High in Middleburg Heights, Ohio for two seasons, being the team's most valuable player and All-Ohio in baseball and captain and most valuable on the cage five . . . Kravec went on to Ashland (O) college 1969-73, starring in baseball 4 years . . . He was named to the Topps Class "AA" 1975 All-Star team and that year tied for the Southern League lead with 14 victories . . . On four years at Ashland college Kravec achieved a 30-9 won-and-lost record.

PROLY, Michael James RHP No. 24

Born December 15, 1950, in Jamaica, New York. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 185 lbs. Bats and throws right. Married and his wife Kimberly and he have a son, Jason. Lives in Bellair Beach, Florida.

1979 SEASON: When the Sox bullpen faltered last spring Proly stepped into the breach and in just one month the little righthander chalked up 7 saves . . . Then a strained right elbow sidelined Proly until July 28 . . . Proly came back strong the last 2 months, making 4 starts, plus 8 relief appearances to demonstrate that his arm was once more OK.

CAREER: Proly has paid his dues with 8 years in organized ball . . . He started out in the St. Louis Cardinals' organization, breaking in with St. Petersburg of the Florida State League in 1972 . . . He won 22 games while losing only 7 the next two seasons to earn promotion to the American Association in 1975 . . . Then in 1976 Mike had a 1-0 mark in 14 games for St. Louis in his major league debut . . . On Nov. 29, 1976, the Minnesota organization drafted Proly from the Cards' system . . . He was granted his free agency Nov. 2, 1977 . . . In 1978, with Iowa, Proly was leading the league in ERA with 2.67 when Chicago called him up early in July . . . After 8 impressive relief roles, Proly made his first big league start Aug. 1 in Fenway Park, stopping Boston on just 6 hits, 5-2 . . . He was 4-2 as a starter when a fracture of his right thumb sidelined him.

MISCELLANEOUS: Proly starred in baseball and football at Chaminade (NY) High School, and then pitched 2 seasons for St. John's University, graduating with a B.S. in marketing in 1973.

ROBINSON, Dewey Everett

RHP No. 35

Born April 28, 1955 in Evanston, Ill. Height: 6 ft. Weight: 180 lbs. Throws and bats right. Lives in Chicago, Ill.

1979 SEASON: Robinson started the season with the White Sox but after 7 relief appearances and a 0-1 record, he was sent to Iowa . . . There "Robby" pitched so superbly out of the bullpen that he won the 1979 Allie Reynolds Award, symbolic of the outstanding pitcher in the American Association . . . Robinson posted a league high 13 wins, tacked on nine saves and had a fine 2.94 ERA en route to winning the honor . . . Dewey was re-acquired by the parent Sox Aug. 31 and made four more relief appearances without a decision.

CAREER: The Sox selected Robinson on the 19th round in the 1977

Free Agent draft . . . Winless in 1977, Robinson suddenly blossomed in 1978 with a brilliant year . . . As the bullpen ace for champion Appleton, "Robby" had a 10-3 record, plus 23 saves, and a remarkable 1.84 ERA . . . Then he hurled in the Florida Instructional league and for Hermosillo, Mexico in the winter to rack up a combined total of 18 victories, only 5 losses and 38 saves for his year's work.

MISCELLANEOUS: Robinson attended Joyce Kilmer elementary school and Sullivan High School in Chicago, then pitched for Southern Illinois U . . . He played both baseball and football as a prep and was named on the All-City squad as a pitcher . . . Then at S.I.U., Dewey pitched four seasons, compiling a 20-6 record.

TROUT, Steven Russell

LHP No. 33

Born July 30, 1957, in Detroit, Michigan. Height: 6 ft., 4 in. Weight: 195 lbs. Throws and bats left. Married Sandra Belder. Lives in Lansing, Ill.

1979 SEASON: Trout won his last three starts, two of them complete game efforts, to give the tall southpaw a fine 11-8 record as a rookie . . . Trout started the season with Iowa and, after a 3-1 mark there, he was called up by Chicago May 5 . . . After making one start, Steve went to the bullpen for 15 relief appearances during which he recorded 4 saves. On July 1st Trout resumed his role as a starter and reeled off 4 successive triumphs over a 17-day period . . .

Two of Trout's 11 triumphs were shutouts, against Baltimore and Oakland . . . Steve compiled a 9-5 mark the last half of the season . . . He tossed a 4-hitter against Texas July 11.

CAREER: In his brief major league career, Trout has a 6-1 record during September as he was 3-0 that month in 1978 . . . Steve was Chicago's No. 1 selection in the June, 1978 free agent draft . . . He signed his first pro contract July 7, that year and won 3 while losing 1 for Sarasota of the Gulf Coast league . . . After pitching at both Appleton and Iowa in 1977, Trout matured rapidly in 1978 as he had an outstanding record at Knoxville in the Southern league, winning 8, losing only 3, with an excellent ERA of 1.47.

MISCELLANEOUS: The son of former American League pitching star Paul "Dizzy" Trout, Steve was graduated from Thornwood High school, South Holland, Ill., in 1976 . . . He was in 8th grade when his father died in 1972 . . . In his senior year in high school, Trout was captain of the prep nine and set 3 records.

TRADING REGULATIONS

There are two periods of inter-league trading each year. The longer time period runs from five days after the completion of the World Series until midnight of the final business day of the mid-winter meetings. The second inter-league trading period occurs from midnight, February 15, through March 15.

Intra-league trading may take place from the last day of the regular season through the following June 15.
